Rules & Regulations

GOOD OL' ORIGINAL DESIGN, INC., a Florida corporation (“GOOD”), is hosting a Hack-A-Thon (“Event”) on the date and time indicated above. If you choose to participate, you do so on the following terms:

1. Use of Source Code and Resources: GOOD will be providing to you the source code and additional resources to enable you to develop and submit an entry. You may not utilize the source code or other additional resources (“Resources”) for any other purpose, must return all Resources furnished by GOOD at the conclusion of the Event, and must delete all copies of the Resources and your entry from all hardware and other data storage devices upon which you have introduced such Resources or your entry.

2. Ownership of Entry: Your entry, and all aspects of it, if accepted as a winning entry, is owned solely by GOOD, and shall constitute intellectual property, entitled to all protections provided by applicable laws. GOOD may modify your entry and utilize it or portions of it in any manner. You will claim no ownership therein, and will not attempt to duplicate such intellectual property for use by you or for dissemination to or use by others. Repetition by GOOD of design elements or features from a submitted entry is permitted regardless of whether the entry is selected as a winner, though GOOD will not own or use non-winning entries directly.

3. Noncompetition: You will not attempt to compete with GOOD, directly or indirectly, or assist any other person or entity to compete with GOOD with respect to the matters developed by you in your entry, with respect to the matter disclosed in the Resources, or with respect to the TXT TAG market. This shall be enforceable by injunctive relief and damages, and no bond shall be required.

4. Judging of Event: You must indicate below your name or the member of your team to which any award it to be provided. Awards will be $500 in cash. The individual or named member below shall be solely responsible for the proper distribution of any award received. In any of the categories, GOOD judges shall have the sole right to decline to select an award recipient if the judges, in their sole, but reasonable opinion, determine that all entries are substandard and of no use to GOOD. In the event of any dispute between the judges, the final judging decision shall be made by GOOD CEO Eric L. Pheterson. All taxes due on the receipt of any award are the sole responsibility of the recipient.

5. Unanticipated Circumstances: GOOD’s obligation to conduct and complete the Event shall be excused by illness of staff, acts of god, severe weather conditions, governing regulations, or other matters beyond the control of GOOD. The time, schedule, place and details of the Event are subject to change at any time.

6. Miscellaneous Provisions: In the event of any dispute arising from this Agreement, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover its reasonable attorney’s fees and costs. You will keep the terms of this Agreement confidential from nonevent participants. Any changes to this Agreement must be in writing. Oral agreements will be nonbinding on GOOD. By participating in the Event, you release GOOD, TXT TAG, Gainesville Hackerspace, their owners, shareholders, officers, and directors from any liability arising from your participation in the Event.

THE ABOVE TERMS HAVE BEEN READ, UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED TO BY THE UNDERSIGNED
